Lego Robot solves the Rubik's Cube in 3 seconds!
 (<http://www.yourubik.com/en/lego-robot-rubiks-cube/>)

🕒 11/04/2014

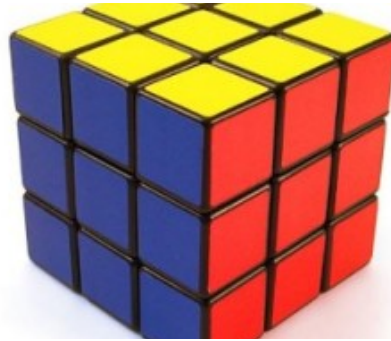

Using a mobile phone to see the pieces, this Lego robot is able to beat all Rubik's Cube records. In fact, we can check in the video that it solves the Rubik's Cube in just 3.25 seconds. Do you think that a human can beat that?

🕒 08/04/2014

One of the most famous questions related to Rubik's Cube is: "How many movements are required to solve the Rubik's Cube?" That is, what is the minimum number of moves I need to solve any Rubik's cube position. It may seem that this is an easy problem to solve using today's computers. However, a Rubik's...

🕒 04/04/2014

Years ago, most of the websites used strange notation to show how to solve a Rubik's Cube. And, nowadays, a lot of the websites are still using them. One of the worst things about notations is that you have to learn something before learning how to solve the Rubik's Cube. As a consequence, many people...
