

Word Ways: The Journal of Recreational Linguistics

For nearly forty years, Word Ways has explored the many facets of logology (an old word resurrected by the late Dmitri Borgmann to describe recreational linguistics). Dmitri wrote the classic book on this topic -- Language on Vacation (Scribner's, 1965), now out of print -- and was the first Word Ways editor in 1968.

Word Ways is published in an 80-page format four times a year (February, May, August, November). The journal is currently edited by Jeremiah Farrell.

Issue Information

- Volume 44, Number 4 — November 2011

- Table of Contents

Recently mentioned articles

Online Highlights

- Meet the Farrells
- Meet the Ecklers
- Oscar Thumpbindle
- A Survey of American Indian Logology by Susan Thorpe

Subscription Information

- Pricing - now includes Pay Online feature
- Download subscription form

Contact Us

- Mailing address

Word Ways
9144 Aintree Drive
Indianapolis, Indiana
46250

- e-Mail

wordways@butler.edu

Additional Information

- Submit Articles
- Articles
- Back Issues

All materials copyrighted by Jeremiah Farrell. Materials may be downloaded for non-commercial, classroom use only. For any other use, contact wordways@butler.edu.